

Monday's daily special is TRANSIT!

Before you go any further – go download Capital Metro's mobile app! You can do so many cool things with it – and if you've never used transit before, some of Austin's brightest local talent can help you navigate:

1. Plan your trip. Ted Meredith and Nikisha Brunson will tell you how.
2. Find out exactly when your bus or train will arrive. Adrian Quesada can show you.
3. Pay for your pass on the app. Justin Lavenue demonstrates.

You'll soon discover that many Express buses, the MetroRail train line and MetroRapid all converge on downtown. (Did you know those routes have free Wi-Fi?) There are also lots of local buses coming from every corner of the city, and 12 Park and Rides for those who live farther out.

And, for those who use public transit beyond their 9-to-5 commute, Capital Metro invites people to explore five Urban Adventures to some of Austin's hottest neighborhoods via transit, including Soco, Auditorium Shores, Lo-Burn, the Warehouse District and The Domain.
